

Frank O'Donovan
Consultant
Apex Business Development Partners Ltd

Following seventeen years working in senior positions at home and abroad with Aer Rianta International, Frank O'Donovan has recently established his own company, Apex Business Development Partners Ltd.

In recent years, he worked on ARI projects in Cyprus (Hermes Airports BOT project for the development of Larnaca and Paphos Airports) and duty free projects in Barbados, Kosovo and Serbia. In the 1990's, he worked on resident projects in the Far East – China, Thailand and Singapore. He played a leading investment and subsequent management role in the ARI led consortium that acquired a stake in Hellenic Duty Free Shops, Greece in 1999. He continues to remain involved with ARI on a project basis.

He is also an accredited associate of the Institute for Independent Business which is a worldwide organisation providing business support to the SME sector.