

Isabelle Schlumberger CEO, JCDecaux Airport France

Isabelle Schlumberger is the Chief Executive of JCDecaux Airport France. Graduate from the Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris and the Paris IX University, she joined the Finance Department of the Havas Group in 1984 where she started as an auditor and subsequently was appointed to be responsible for Investors Relations.

In 1990, she joined the Out of Home subsidiary of the Havas Group – Avenir Havas Media, as Deputy Finance Director. In 1994, based in London, she was appointed Finance and Administrative Director and then in October 1998, was appointed Chief Operating Officer for Sky Sites London, the subsidiary in charge of the UK transport activities for the group.

In June 2000, she was appointed to her current position and is responsible for:

- the Group's Management of the advertising in 44 French airports.
- The development and supervision of the « transport » activities of the Group in Southern Europe, Central and Southern America and South East Asia.
- The co-ordination of product, commercial and strategic development of airport subsidiaries in Europe.