

Kerrie Mather
CEO, Macquarie Bank

Kerrie Mather has been the Chief Executive Officer of Macquarie Airports since it listed on the Australian Stock Exchange with a market capitalisation of A$1 billion in April 2002.

Today, Macquarie Airports is a top 50 company in Australia with a market capitalisation of over A$5 billion. Macquarie Airports is now the world's largest strategic airport investor with significant interests in the following airports: Sydney, Brussels, Copenhagen, Rome Fiumicino and Ciampino, Birmingham, Bristol and Newcastle. Under Kerrie's leadership, the Macquarie Airports team of airport and investment banking specialists engage in all aspects of the airport businesses seeking to improve the commercial and financial performance of each airport. Kerrie is a Director of Sydney Airport, Brussels Airport, Copenhagen Airports, the Rome investment company and Birmingham Airport.

Prior to establishing Macquarie Airports, Kerrie had 18 years investment banking experience primarily on acquisition, business and financial advisory roles with a particular focus on the airports sector.