

Ravi Thakran
Group Director for India, LVMH
President & CEO, LVMH Group Watches & Jewelry Div. Asia Pacific

Ravi Thakran has recently been appointed as LVMH Group Director for India. He is also President & CEO of LVMH Group (Moet Hennessy Louis Vuitton) Watches & Jewelry Division for Asia Pacific. In addition to leading the division's business across the region, he is personally spearheading LVMH watch & jewellery brands' entry into two of Asia's largest emerging markets, i.e. China and India. In his new role as Group Director for India Ravi will coordinate all LVMH group activities in India, a major focus market for the group going forward. His knowledge of the Indian market, combined with his recent achievements especially at TAG Heuer, were the key success factors behind this move.

Prior to joining LVMH, Ravi has worked with organizations like Swatch Group, Nike, Godrej Soaps and Titan. He has worked in various capacities in Europe and Asia Pacific. He also worked with The Swatch Group as Member of Extended Group Management Board in Switzerland and Regional General Manager of South & South East Asia.

Ravi has a post-graduate from Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad. He is 43 years old.
