MAUI JIM® SUNGLASSES DELIVERS THREE SLICK NEW STYLES

Maui Jim® Sunglasses is launching two modified versions of its popular aviator style with sophisticated rectangular lens shapes and scratch-resistant SuperThin® lenses plus a trendy new nylon frame.

The new Kapena (#207) and Harbor (#206) aviator shapes are both made from the finest Monel metal for durability and adjustability with non-slip nose-pads and spring hinges for a strong look and a great fit.

The styles are available in gunmetal black frame with neutral grey lens or matte bronze with HCL® bronze lens. Kapena has an unusual two-tone temple design and Harbor has a mottled pattern on one side of the temple and a solid colour on the opposite side.

The patented SuperThin glass lenses are 20% thinner than conventional laminated polarised lenses and boast Maui Jim's unique PolarisedPlus®2 multi-layered lens technology which eliminates glare and provides superb optics.

The sophisticated new Peahi (#202) style in lightweight, hypoallergenic nylon (cellulose propionate) also boasts SuperThin lenses and with its rectangular frame and clean masculine lines is sure to be a winner with many face shapes.

Peahi is offered in gloss black with neutral grey lens or tortoiseshell effect with HCL bronze lens.

The three stylish new designs were previewed at TFWA Asia Pacific in Singapore last week and are now available to travel retail outlets worldwide.
